

TA 101

INTRODUCTORY SEMINAR

Transactional Analysis is a model for understanding human development, personality, behaviour, communication and relationships, as well as a process to facilitate personal change.

TA can be applied to anyone in a variety of situations, and the course is relevant to those interested in personal development, psychotherapists, counsellors, supervisors and those working in health, social work and education.

The course is an official introduction to TA and a prerequisite for those who want to advance in TA training. On completion of the course participants will receive a TA101 certificate from the International Transactional Analysis Association.

Date: Saturday 23rd & Sunday 24th February 2013
9.30am-4.30pm

Venue: Opawa, Christchurch

Cost: $245 (inc GST) morning tea provided
(student discount available)

Tutor: Paula Partington

Paula is a Provisional Teaching and Supervising Transactional Analyst and Certified Transactional Analyst (psychotherapy). She works in private practice with adults, children, adolescents and their families, and has previously worked in health and social work settings. Paula also has a B.A.(Hons) in Psychology and an MSc in Psychology and Counselling.

Contact for bookings:

Paula Partington

Registered Psychotherapist

(03) 942 1260

paula.equilibrium@gmail.com